ARTICLE OF THE WEEK

Tranquility Is in the Heart

* The Believer is he who says "I was waiting for this" when something good or evil befalls him. He who believes in Allahu ta'ala's qada and qadar is free from sadness.

* Tranquility is in the heart, not at place. The tranquility of the heart and happiness of the human is through the remembrance of Allahu ta'ala.

* Dhikr is several types. Reading the Qur'an al-karim is a dhikr. Reading a religious book written correctly is a dhikr. Suhbah is a dhikr. Salat is a dhikr. That is, dhikr is to remember Allah. It is to remember Him one way or the other. Comfort and tranquility are through dhikr.

* An Islamic scholar has two qualities. The first is tawadu. One who knows Allahu ta'ala cannot raise one's head. The more one knows Him, the more one fears Him. True scholars are the ones who fear Him the most. The second quality is naql. Our religion is based on naql.

* If there is no ikhlas anywhere, there is worldly concerns and dunya there. Ikhlas means the hereafter and means for the sake of Allah.
